ANALYST NOTE

Hera local LLM

The CXW Bollinger Squeeze backtest shows a +49.38% return with a Sharpe of 1.89, yet the 50% win rate and single-digit trade count reveal extreme sampling risk. Two trades are statistically insufficient to confirm robustness; the result may reflect luck rather than an edge. The significant drawdown of 10.92% relative to the short sample size suggests high volatility exposure. Before live deployment, you must run a longer backtest or walk-forward analysis to validate performance across different market regimes.
